

Lots of chocolates this Diwali

Check out Jus' Trufs for a trendy gifting option for the festival

Chenddyna Schae

SHILPA BANSAL, Hebblal

Diwali gifts are getting innovative and stylish. Hampers are a hot trend and if one stocked with chocolate is your choice, then Jus' Trufs has a variety of options. Started as a small home set-up in 2001, Jus' Trufs is now a well-known outfit run by chocolatier Chenddyna Schae and her team. "I have worked and honed my skills with chocolatiers in London, France and Germany. I've also done a course in Belgian chocolate-making in Singapore," says Chenddyna, who was selected for a scholarship for women entrepreneurs, called the 10,000 Women Programme, early this year. "This is where a bit of B-school and a lot of learning happened," she adds.

Jus' Trufs's signature chocolates are truffles with old favourites such as pure truffle, coffee truffle, crunchy almond logs and butterscotch bars, in the custom bitter sweet couverture they are known for. "We have introduced four new flavours — intense espresso, strawberry crush, orange crush and cocoa dreams. You will also find slim new thins with an incredible filling in intense mint, perfect give-aways at wedding and corpoventures. The flavours are rocher lait and rocher noir. But Jus' Trufs specials are caramel vanille, ebony and ivory, cappuchino ganache and marzipan amande," she says.

Jus' Trufs also gives you an option to place bulk orders for these Belgian pralines. They are priced at Rs 500 for a box of nine, Rs 600 for a box of 12, Rs 900 for a box of 16 and Rs 1,200 for a box of 24.

There is something for diabetics as well. "Our sugar-free pralines and bars created from pure Belgian couverture are popular among our clients. These are priced at Rs 2,400 per kg," shares Chenddyna.

Now, Jus' Trufs is offering limited editions of its elegantly designed hampers, glass trays, platters, baskets and silver plated bowls with an assortment of chocolates and dry fruits. These are priced between Rs 300 and Rs 3,000. Limited selections of all these items are available at their retail counters at various parts of the city.

For details and orders, call 32909246, 9844016964 or email: info@justrufs.com or visit www.justrufs.com rate events. These are priced at Rs 7.50 per piece. We pack them in petal gold and silver boxes, which come in varied sizes. They are priced at Rs 1,200 per kg," explains Chenddyna.

Jus' Trufs has an exotic range of Belgian pralines as well. "They are created freshly from their custom blend of Belgian dark and milk cou-

